Civil Action No: _____

COMPLAINT FOR DAMAGES AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

COMPLAINT FOR DAMAGES AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

Plaintiffs Sprint Solutions, Inc. and Sprint Communications Company L.P. (collectively "Sprint" or "Plaintiffs"), hereby file this Complaint for Damages and Injunctive Relief against Zengyan Huang a/k/a Nelson Huang and Jane and John Does 1-10, (collectively, "Defendants") and state:

INTRODUCTION

1. Sprint sells wireless handsets ("Sprint Phones" or "Phones") under the brands Sprint, Boost Mobile, Virgin Mobile, payLo, and Assurance Wireless for use on Sprint's wireless network at prices significantly below the wholesale price of the Phones to make them more widely accessible to consumers. Defendants and their co-conspirators are perpetrators of an unlawful scheme (the "Bulk Handset Trafficking Scheme" or the "Scheme") to profit from the illegal acquisition and resale of new Sprint Phones by stealing the substantial financial investment that Sprint makes in its Phones, for their own profit and to the detriment to Sprint and its customers.

2. Defendants and their co-conspirators acquire the new Sprint Phones through various methods, including the use of “runners” and “credit mules.”¹ As part of the Bulk Handset Trafficking Scheme, the Phones, which may be purchased and sold multiple times, ultimately end up in the hands of someone other than the consumer with whom Sprint has a business relationship. Along the way, the Phones are “unlocked” so they will operate on a wireless network other than Sprint’s. Often the ultimate user of the phone is located overseas, in a country where the wireless service provider does not underwrite the cost of new phones.

3. Defendants’ Scheme takes advantage of the fact that Sprint invests in its Phones to reduce the costs for its consumers, wireless service providers in other countries do not. By obtaining the Sprint Phones under false or fraudulent pretenses from Sprint and diverting them to other markets where phones are not subsidized, the Scheme converts Sprint’s investment dollars into profits for Defendants and their co-conspirators. Although Defendants may participate in less than all of the steps in the process of diverting Sprint Phones, each of Defendants’ acts is a violation of Sprint’s rights and causes significant damage to Sprint. Additionally, as participants in the conspiracy, Defendants are liable for the harm caused to Sprint by the entire Scheme.

4. The Scheme causes tremendous harm to Sprint and to consumers. In addition to the pecuniary losses caused by Defendants’ theft of Sprint’s investment in the Phones, lost sales and market expenses, and lost expected customer revenue, Defendants’ misconduct has harmed Sprint’s relationships with its customers, dealers, retailers, and others. Defendants’ Scheme also involves unlawfully accessing Sprint’s protected computer systems and wireless network; trafficking of Sprint's protected and confidential computer passwords; willful infringement of Sprint's trademarks; and/or stealing legitimate customer upgrades. Defendants have caused substantial damage to Sprint's brand, image, and reputation.

5. Sprint seeks to recover damages for the harm caused by Defendants' Bulk Handset Trafficking Scheme, and to obtain an injunction prohibiting Defendants from continuing to perpetrate the Scheme.

6. All conditions precedent to filing this action have been performed, waived or excused.

7. Sprint has retained the undersigned attorneys to represent it in this action and has agreed to pay its attorneys a reasonable fee for their services.

PARTIES, JURISDICTION, AND VENUE

13. Jurisdiction in this Court is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1332, and 1338 because Sprint’s claims for violation of the United States Trademark Act, Title 15 of the United States Code and the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act, 18 U.S.C. § 1030, et seq. arise under federal law and because diversity exists between the parties and the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.00 exclusive of costs, fees, and interest. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367 over Sprint’s state law claims because those claims are so related to the federal claims that they form part of the same case or controversy.

14. Defendants are subject to the personal jurisdiction of this Court because they are residents of State of New York, and because they have conducted, engaged in and carried out business ventures within the State of New York; have committed tortious acts within the State of New York; and have engaged in substantial and not isolated activity within the State of New York.

SPRINT’S BUSINESS MODEL

16. Sprint and its affiliates offer a comprehensive range of telecommunications services to consumers, businesses, and government users. Sprint currently serves more than 56

million customers nationwide, and is widely recognized for developing, engineering and deploying innovative technologies. The Sprint companies and affiliates highly value the outstanding business reputation they have worked hard to develop.

17. Sprint's wireless program enables Sprint customers to choose from a variety of monthly voice and data plans for use on cutting edge devices on the Sprint wireless network. In addition to being available through Sprint online, over the phone with authorized Sprint service representatives, and in its stores, Sprint Phones and wireless service are sold through authorized Sprint dealers and retailers around the country, with whom Sprint has contractual relationships.

18. Sprint's business model is based upon Sprint's ability to deliver affordable, innovative, and desirable products and services to consumers. Therefore, Sprint assists its customers in their acquisition of Sprint Phones for use on the Sprint network by selling the Phones for substantially less than what Sprint pays to the manufacturers for the Phones. Sprint recoups the money it loses on the Phones through revenue earned on the sale of Sprint service, which customers must use to transmit and receive voice, text, and data on the Sprint Phones.

19. In addition to subsidizing Sprint Phones, Sprint also offers its customers the option of paying off the Phone in installments or leasing a Phone from Sprint, as well as providing discounts, rebates, and other incentive programs by which Sprint heavily invests in the Phones to the benefit of its customers. These types of substantial subsidies and investment programs are not offered by telecommunications carriers outside the United States; instead, the consumer must pay full price for the phones from the manufacturers. The full value of the Phone in the case of theft or the difference between the value and the subsidy price offered by Sprint is the profit sought by the handset traffickers.

20. Sprint Phones are sold subject to Terms and Conditions (“Terms and Conditions”) which conspicuously restrict and limit the sale and use of the Phones. A copy of the Terms and Conditions is attached hereto as Exhibit B. These Terms and Conditions are set forth in printed inserts that are included with the purchase of every Sprint Phone.

21. To make its customers’ experience as convenient as possible, Sprint provides various methods for its customers to manifest their agreement to the Terms and Conditions, depending on the type of service they obtain and the method and sales channel through which they activate their service. In some cases, customers are asked to sign a written contract, in others they acknowledge their agreement orally by phone, and in other situations they may indicate their agreement by clicking the appropriate buttons on a website. In the case of pay-as-you-go or prepaid service, customers confirm their agreement by purchasing a Phone in a package that conspicuously indicates that their purchase or use of the phone constitutes their agreement to the Terms and Conditions. All of the methods used by Sprint for obtaining its customers’ agreement to the Terms and Conditions are legally valid and appropriate, and the Terms and Conditions constitute a valid and binding contract between Sprint and each of its customers.

22. Sprint is able to offer its Phones to customers at reduced prices only if the Phones are used as intended on the Sprint wireless network. Manufacturers that produce wireless phones for Sprint install proprietary software, requested and paid for by Sprint, on the Sprint Phones. Among other things, this software is intended to prevent the Phones from being used outside the Sprint network.

23. Wireless technology is constantly changing and improving, and the wireless industry is intensely competitive. Sprint expends substantial resources to maintain its position as an industry leader and to ensure that its network, handsets, and all of its products and services are at the cutting edge of the latest technological developments. Providing its customers with the highest quality and most advanced technology is a key differentiator for Sprint and central to its business strategy. Sprint is constantly and aggressively developing, engineering, and deploying innovative technologies to benefit its customers.

24. Sprint invests heavily in efforts to provide its customers with the most up-to-date wireless handsets, and shoulders most or all of the cost of purchasing a new phone for its customers. Sprint makes phones available to new customers at a low cost when they initiate wireless service, and also provides new subsidized phones to existing customers at regular intervals.

25. Sprint made a particularly significant and widely publicized investment for its customers in the smart phone market. As reported in The Wall Street Journal, Sprint agreed to buy 30.5 million iPhones from Apple over four years, at a cost of more than $20 billion. Indeed, Sprint has staked a significant amount of its business on the iPhone brand. Copies of newspaper articles discussing Sprint and the iPhone are attached hereto as Composite Exhibit C. As the demand, and therefore the price, for smart phones in various world markets skyrockets, Sprint's subsidized smart phones are a particularly attractive and lucrative target for participants in the Bulk Handset Trafficking Scheme.

26. Sprint is continuously working to provide its customers with the latest in communications technology. Sprint's practice of defraying the cost of handsets for existing customers is an essential part of its business model, and facilitates the upgrading of Sprint's network by helping to migrate customers from older technology phones to newer models. Many of the various wireless transmission standards are not compatible with each other, so Sprint's customers must be upgraded to new Phones before Sprint can transition its network to the latest standard. New handsets are also needed to utilize different radio frequencies and take advantage of Sprint's acquisition of wireless spectrum from various other companies, so as not to overwhelm Sprint's network and to allow for the most efficient service for all Sprint customers. Stealing the investment in handset upgrades that Sprint intends to benefit its customers therefore harms Sprint not only by misappropriating its investment in the Phones but also by impeding Sprint's ability to upgrade its equipment and network facilities and efficiently and effectively serve its customers.

SPRINT'S TRADEMARK RIGHTS

27. Sprint Communications Company L.P. owns federal trademark registrations for the standard character and stylized Sprint® marks (collectively, the "Sprint Communications Marks"). Sprint Solutions, Inc. has been assigned the right to use and enforce the Sprint Communications Marks. Copies of the certificates of registration issued by the United States Patent and Trademark Office are attached hereto as Composite Exhibit D. The stylized Sprint Communications Marks are depicted below:

28. Sprint has been assigned the right to use and enforce the standard character and stylized Virgin Mobile, payLo, Assurance Wireless and Boost Mobile trademarks (collectively, the "Assigned Marks"), the latter of which are depicted below:

The Sprint Communication Marks and Assigned Marks will collectively be referred to as the “Sprint Marks”.

29. Sprint uses the Sprint Marks on and in connection with its telecommunications products and services.

30. Sprint Marks have become an intrinsic and essential part of the valuable goodwill and property of Sprint, who protects the Sprint Marks. The Sprint Marks are well established and well known to customers and the trade as symbols identifying and distinguishing Sprint’s products and services, and signifying distinctive products and services of high quality. Only Sprint and its expressly authorized, affiliated agents are permitted to use the Sprint Marks. The Sprint Marks are valid, distinctive, protectable, famous, have acquired secondary meaning, and are associated exclusively with Sprint.

DEFENDANTS’ MISCONDUCT

31. Sprint has discovered that, although large quantities of its Phones are being purchased throughout the United States, a significant number of these Phones are not being used on the Sprint network. Instead, entities and individuals such as Defendants and their co-conspirators, with no intention of lawfully connecting to or using the Sprint wireless network, are fraudulently acquiring and reselling new Sprint Phones in bulk quantities. The Phones are acquired, either directly by Defendants or through their co-conspirators, and then sold for a substantial profit and shipped directly overseas, where they can be used on other wireless carriers’ networks, or shipped to other domestic traffickers, who often add them to larger shipments headed overseas. The Phones are usually taken out of their original packaging, and all accessories, warranties, and manuals are removed, before being shipped overseas. The Phones are often unlocked by Defendants or their co-conspirators, to raise their value and prepare them for use on foreign carriers. Defendants undertake these actions for their own profit.

32. Once a Sprint Phone is unlocked and/or shipped overseas to be used on other wireless networks, Sprint no longer has a revenue source to recoup its investment on that Phone.

33. If Sprint identifies a Phone as connected with theft, fraud, or other loss, the electronic serial number (ESN) is logged into Sprint's system and the Phone can no longer be used on the Sprint network. This is done to protect Sprint from further harm and in an attempt to deter criminal activity. The Phone is thereafter referred to in the handset trafficking community as having a "Bad ESN." As it is no longer a functioning Sprint Phone, the only value of a Bad ESN Phone is in unlocking the handset for use on other networks and overseas resale.

34. Defendants are knowingly and willfully engaged in an enterprise that traffics in and resells Sprint Phones. Defendants have acquired and sold large quantities of Sprint Phones through various co-conspirators. While the complete extent of Defendants' activities in the Bulk Handset Trafficking Scheme is not yet known, Defendants are actively involved in several integral components of the conspiracy.

35. Defendants are not authorized Sprint dealers or retailers. Defendants have no legitimate connection to Sprint.

36. In or about December 2014, Sprint identified Defendants as handset traffickers through their Craigslist advertisements looking to buy new iPhones. Samples of Defendants' advertisements are attached hereto as Exhibit E. The New York telephone number listed in some advertisements is a cell phone registered to Defendant Huang. Id.

37. On December 22, 2014, an undercover investigator for Sprint initiated communication with Defendant Huang to confirm that Defendants traffic new Sprint Phones, which Defendant Huang confirmed. A copy of the December 22, 2014 - January 6, 2015 text/iMessage communications between Defendant Huang and Sprint's investigator is attached hereto as Exhibit F. Defendant Huang responded by iMessage from his email address, nelsonhuang123@icloud.com. Id. Defendant Huang also confirmed that Defendants buy phones in bulk and can purchase "about 80 pieces" per day, all of which Defendants resell and ship to China. Id. Defendant Huang arranged to meet the investigator to purchase new Sprint Phones. Id.

38. On December 26, 2014, the investigator arrived at a Starbucks on West 181st Street in Washington Heights to meet Defendant Huang. When the investigator called to advise Huang that he had arrived, Huang advised that he was running late and that his business partner, "June," would arrive first. Shortly after, June telephoned the investigator to say she was approaching the Starbucks and upon arrival identified herself as "June." Upon information and belief, Defendant Doe 1 is Defendant Huang's business partner, "June."

39. June stated that she lives in the Chinatown neighborhood of Manhattan and confirmed that she and Defendant Huang work together to buy new phones in bulk which they resell overseas. June told the investigators that Huang would arrive soon, but stated that she wanted to complete the transaction before he arrived. The investigator declined, telling June that they should wait for Defendant Huang.

40. When Huang arrived, Defendants purchased a new Sprint iPhone for cash. Surveillance photographs of the December 26, 2014 transaction are attached hereto as Exhibit G. Sprint investigated the post-sale history of this new Sprint iPhone and confirmed that it disappeared and was never activated on the Sprint wireless network. Upon information and belief, Defendants shipped and resold this Phone overseas.

41. During the transaction, Defendants confirmed that they can buy 100 phones every day for a total of 500-700 phones each week, all of which they will resell and ship overseas. See Exhibit F.

42. Over the next several days, Defendant Huang continued to communicate with the investigator to negotiate a bulk transaction for 300 new Sprint iPhones. See Exhibit F. Defendant Huang confirmed that he would purchase 100 new Sprint Phones per day over three days in cash. See id. Upon information and belief, when Defendants did not obtain these 300 new Sprint Phones from Sprint's investigator, they obtained the 300 new Sprint iPhones from another source, which Defendants shipped and resold overseas.

43. In or about February 2015, Sprint's investigator responded to another Craigslist advertisement that provided a New Jersey phone number, which Sprint confirmed also belonged to Defendants. See Exhibit E. During this conversation, Defendant Huang again confirmed that Defendants traffic new Sprint iPhones and asked to purchase 50 new Sprint iPhone 6 handsets as an initial transaction. A copy of the February 9, 2015 – February 13, 2015 text communications between Defendant Huang and the investigator is attached hereto as Exhibit H. Further, Huang confirmed that Defendants are indifferent to whether the Phones have Bad ESNs. Id. The acquisition of new Sprint Phones with Bad ESNs, incapable of being activated on Sprint's network, confirms that Defendants are fully aware that the new Sprint Phones that they are trafficking are connected with fraud, theft or other illegal activity.

44. On or about February 21, 2015, a meeting was arranged at a Dunkin Donuts in North Bergen, New Jersey, where the investigator again met Defendant Huang. When asked why they were meeting in New Jersey, instead of New York as before, Defendant Huang stated that Defendants post advertisements in New Jersey, New York and Connecticut and drive around all day buying phones. Defendant Huang purchased a new Sprint iPhone 6 for cash and reiterated his desire to engage in a bulk transaction. Surveillance photographs of the February 21, 2015 transaction are attached hereto as Exhibit I.

45. Upon information and belief, when Defendants did not obtain any more Phones from the investigator, they continued from that date forward to fulfill their order of 100 new Sprint Phones per day from another source, all of which were resold overseas for Defendants' own profit and to Sprint's detriment.

SUBSTANTIAL HARM CAUSED BY DEFENDANTS' MISCONDUCT

46. Defendants' actions substantially harm Sprint in several ways, including inter alia: (1) Sprint is deprived of the opportunity to recoup its substantial investment in Sprint Phones; (2) Sprint is deprived of the opportunity to earn profits by providing wireless service to legitimate Sprint consumers; (3) Defendants' actions seriously and irreparably interfere with Sprint's relationships with its dealers, retailers and customers; and (4) Defendants' infringement of the Sprint name and Marks causes significant ongoing and irreparable losses and harm to Sprint's brand, image, and reputation. All of these factors undermine Sprint's competitive edge in the cellular phone industry.

47. The conduct of Defendants, their unknown co-conspirators, and others who engage in the unlawful acquisition and resale of large quantities of new Sprint Phones has also resulted in shortages of available Sprint Phones, particularly the most in-demand models. This misconduct substantially harms Sprint and its relationship with dealers, retailers and consumers because Sprint is not able to supply sufficient handsets to satisfy the demand from legitimate consumers who, as a result, go elsewhere for their telecommunications services.

48. Sprint suffers additional, irreparable harm when its Phones are removed, by Defendants or their co-conspirators, from the original packaging and altered because Sprint is deprived of the means to control the quality of its product. This becomes especially damaging where a potential legitimate Sprint customer within the United States acquires a Phone from Defendants or their co-conspirators, that the customer believes is a genuine Sprint Phone, with all of the attendant benefits and is later disappointed in Sprint because the Phone does not work as intended on the Sprint network because it has been denominated a Bad ESN Phone or otherwise. Furthermore, the process of unlocking and reselling a Sprint Phone voids the manufacturer's warranty on the device. The unlocked repackaged Sprint Phones are then resold without the original manufacturer's warranty documentation. Both consumers and Sprint are harmed when a Sprint Phone that has been altered or sold by Defendants or their co-conspirators is submitted for warranty repair. Consumers who purchase Sprint Phones from Defendants or their co-conspirators are unable to obtain warranty service in the event they experience problems with their Phones. As a result, Sprint's reputation suffers further.

49. Additionally, confused customers, relying on the Sprint Marks on the Phones they purchased from Defendants, look to Sprint to resolve their questions. Sprint incurs substantial costs associated with calls to its customer relations and department to resolve the issues created by Defendants.

50. Sprint's reputation is further damaged by its inability to assist those consumers who buy Sprint Phones from Defendants, because despite bearing the Sprint Marks, they are no longer valid Sprint Phones because the actions of Defendants and their co-conspirators voided the warranties and as Bad ESN phones, they cannot be activated on the Sprint network.

51. Defendants' conduct has resulted in the dilution of the Sprint Marks; substantial harm to Sprint's business reputation and goodwill; a greater likelihood of confusion, mistake, and deception as to the source of origin of Sprint products unlawfully sold by the Defendants and confusion as to what if any relationship exists between Sprint and Defendants.

CIVIL LITIGATION AGAINST OTHER PHONE TRAFFICKERS

52. Federal courts have recognized that conduct similar to Defendants' conduct is unlawful.

53. In addition to Sprint, T-Mobile USA, Inc., TracFone Wireless, Inc., Nokia Corporation, and AT&T Mobility LLC have each filed multiple lawsuits in numerous federal courts across the country against other traffickers engaged in the practice of defrauding legitimate consumers by acquiring large quantities of wireless telephones and reselling them for profit. Each of those companies has succeeded in obtaining Final Judgments and Permanent Injunctions. Copies of several examples of Final Judgments and Permanent Injunctions are attached hereto as Composite Exhibit J. A defendant in one case who continued trafficking in phones in violation of an injunction issued by the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas was charged with criminal contempt of court and sentenced to serve 57 months in prison. Copies of the Memorandum Opinion and Order of Contempt, Application for Criminal Contempt, the Order finding cause to believe the defendant is guilty of criminal contempt, and Judgment of Criminal Contempt are attached hereto as Composite Exhibit K.

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION AND PROSECUTION OF PHONE TRAFFICKING

54. Phone traffickers like Defendants have been the subject of numerous criminal investigations and prosecutions across the country. Some examples are:

- a. In August 2014, the United States Attorney for the District of Minnesota announced the indictment of 20 individuals engaged in the illegal acquisition and resale of tens of thousands of Smartphones to the black markets of the Middle East and China. A joint task force comprised of the U.S. Secret Service, the Minnesota Financial Crimes Task Force, and the St. Paul Police Department investigated and then apprehended members of the “Mustafa Organization,” who had been using runners, engaged in contract and subscription fraud, and robbery to acquire large quantities of subsidized phones for overseas resale.
- b. In March 2013, the California Attorney General charged two individuals with trafficking nearly $4M in wireless phones to Hong Kong over an 8 month period.
- c. On or about February 25, 2013, federal law enforcement authorities, including agents from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the United States Secret Service, and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, raided a warehouse belonging to a phone trafficking company called Wireless Buybacks in Elkridge, Maryland, pursuant to a search warrant and found the facilities were being used to harbor stolen Sprint Phones. Sprint filed suit against Wireless Buybacks and its affiliates the following day.
- d. On August 21, 2012, federal Homeland Security agents and SWAT teams conducted a raid on facilities operated by handset trafficker Ace Wholesale and on the home of the company’s CEO, Jason Floarea. Later the same day, Sprint filed suit in federal court against Ace Wholesale, Floarea, and several affiliated entities and persons asserting handset trafficking claims similar to those asserted here. On October 16, 2014, Mr. Floarea, pled guilty to Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property, in part in connection with trafficking Sprint Phones.

- e. An FBI sting operation in Philadelphia that began with wireless phone trafficking resulted in the conviction of 16 individuals on terrorism charges, when it turned out that the proceeds from their phone trafficking and other illegal conduct was being funneled to the terrorist organization Hezbollah.

Copies of court documents, press releases, and news reports regarding these incidents are attached hereto as Composite Exhibit L.

COUNT ONE

UNFAIR COMPETITION

56. Defendants' conduct in acquiring and/or inducing others to acquire the Phones, disabling or unlocking, inducing others to disable or unlock, and/or assisting others to disable or unlock the Phones, and reselling and/or assisting others to resell the Phones as new for activation on other wireless networks constitutes unfair competition under the common law of the State of New York.

57. Defendants' conduct in selling, inducing others to sell, and/or assisting others to sell unlocked Sprint Phones undermines Sprint's subsidized incentive programs and constitutes unfair competition under the common law of the State of New York.

58. Defendants' use of at least one of the Sprint Marks in connection with the sale of unlocked, counterfeit Sprint Phones has caused, and will further cause, a likelihood of confusion, mistake and deception as to the source of origin of Defendants' counterfeit products and services, and the relationship between Sprint and Defendants. Thus, Defendants have also engaged in unfair competition with Sprint in violation of the common law of the State of New York by selling and/or offering, and promoting their products with the intention of trading upon the goodwill established by Sprint and are thereby misappropriating the benefits of substantial effort and money expended by Sprint in establishing its rights in and to the Sprint Marks.

59. Defendants' actions were done in bad faith; they were intentional, malicious, and willful, and have caused substantial harm to Sprint.

60. Sprint is entitled to appropriate relief, including injunctive relief.

COUNT TWO

TORTIOUS INTERFERENCE WITH PROSPECTIVE BUSINESS RELATIONS AND ECONOMIC ADVANTAGE

62. A business relationship, and an expectancy of business relationships, exists between Sprint and authorized dealers of Sprint Phones.

63. A business relationship, and an expectancy of business relationships, exists between Sprint and authorized retailers of Sprint Phones.

64. A business relationship, and an expectancy of business relationships, exists between Sprint and current and prospective Sprint customers.

65. There is a high probability of future economic benefit to Sprint as a result of these current and prospective business relationships.

66. Defendants have knowledge of and have intentionally and unjustifiably interfered with, and/or have knowingly facilitated a conspiracy to interfere with, these current and prospective business relationships between Sprint, authorized dealers and retailers who sell Sprint products, and legitimate Sprint customers or prospective customers.

67. Specifically, but without limitation, Defendants knew that Sprint has business relationships, and an expectancy of business relationships, with legitimate consumers of Sprint Phones and wireless service. Defendants interfered with these relationships by engaging in the Bulk Handset Trafficking Scheme and causing, at least in part, Sprint to have an insufficient supply of Sprint Phones available to meet legitimate consumer demand.

68. Defendants also knew that Sprint has business relationships with authorized dealers and retailers of Sprint Phones to provide said dealers with sufficient quantities of Sprint Phones for their legitimate consumers' use exclusively on Sprint's wireless network. Defendants' Scheme has resulted in substantial numbers of Sprint Phones that are never activated on Sprint service and has further caused shortages of available Sprint Phones, thereby substantially harming Sprint and its relationship with its authorized dealers and retailers because Sprint is unable to supply dealers with sufficient Phones to satisfy the demands from legitimate consumers.

69. Defendants also knew that Sprint has business relationships with legitimate Sprint customers to provide them with Phones and service on the Sprint network.

70. Defendants are intentionally interfering with Sprint's business relationships and prospective advantages through improper means and in violation of the law.

71. Defendants engaged in the acts of interference set forth herein with a conscious desire to prevent the relationships from occurring or continuing, or Defendants knew that the interference was certain or substantially certain to occur as a result of their conduct.

72. As set forth fully below, Defendants' intentional interference was committed through the use of fraud and fraudulent misrepresentations to Defendants' direct benefit and to the detriment of Sprint.

73. Defendants' acts injured Sprint's business relationships.

74. Sprint has been proximately damaged and continues to be damaged as a result of Defendants' interference.

75. There is no adequate remedy at law to fully compensate Sprint for the harm caused by Defendants' tortious interference.

COUNT THREE

TORTIOUS INTERFERENCE WITH CONTRACTUAL RELATIONS

77. A contractual relationship for a specific term exists between Sprint and authorized dealers and retailers of Sprint Phones.

78. A contractual relationship exists between Sprint and its customers, the purchasers of Sprint Phones and wireless service.

79. Defendants have knowledge of and have intentionally and unjustifiably interfered with, and/or have knowingly facilitated a conspiracy to interfere with, these contracts between Sprint, and its authorized dealers and retailers and legitimate Sprint customers.

80. Specifically, but without limitation, Defendants knew that Sprint has contractual relationships with legitimate consumers of Sprint Phones and wireless service. Defendants interfered with these relationships by, inter alia, inducing runners and credit mules or other purchasers of Sprint products to breach their contracts with Sprint.

81. Defendants also knew that Sprint has contractual relationships with authorized dealers and retailers of Sprint Phones under which these dealers and retailers will promote and sell Sprint products solely for activation on the Sprint network. On information and belief, Defendants and/or their co-conspirators induce authorized Sprint dealers and retailers to breach their agreements with Sprint and provide new Sprint Phones to Defendants for a purpose other than activation on the Sprint network and at a financial loss to Sprint.

82. Defendants engaged in the acts of interference set forth herein with a conscious desire to induce breach of contract, or Defendants knew that breach of contract was certain or substantially certain to occur as a result of their conduct.

83. Sprint has been proximately damaged and continues to be damaged as a result of Defendants' interference.

84. There is no adequate remedy at law to fully compensate Sprint for the harm caused by Defendants' tortious interference.

COUNT FOUR

CONSPIRACY TO COMMIT FRAUD AND FRAUDULENT MISREPRESENTATION

85. Sprint reasserts the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1 through 51 above and Paragraphs 103-110 below as though fully set forth herein.

86. An agreement and conspiracy existed and continues to exist between and among the Defendants and other co-conspirators to unlawfully acquire in bulk, traffic, and resell unlawfully unlocked and altered Sprint Phones under at least one of the Sprint Marks, which results in federal common law and statutory trademark infringement, common law unfair competition, contributory trademark infringement, tortious interference with business relationships and prospective advantage, unjust enrichment, and violations of the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act, among other things.

87. Each Defendant knowingly agreed to engage, and did engage, in one or more overt acts in pursuit of the conspiracy as set forth with more particularity in this Complaint.

88. Sprint has been proximately damaged by the conspiracy and Defendants' actions in furtherance thereof.

89. There is no adequate remedy at law to fully compensate Sprint for the harm caused by Defendants' conspiracy.

COUNT FIVE

UNJUST ENRICHMENT

91. By bulk acquisition of Sprint Phones at less than the manufacturer cost of the Phones for use on wireless networks other than Sprint's network, Defendants have obtained benefits from Sprint which have caused significant harm to Sprint and resulted in significant financial gain to Defendants through their resale of the illicitly-acquired new Sprint Phones.

92. Defendants have knowingly and voluntarily obtained the benefits.

93. Defendants have retained the benefits under such circumstances that make it unjust and inequitable for Defendants to retain the benefits without paying Sprint the value of the benefits Defendants acquired.

94. There is no adequate remedy at law to fully compensate Sprint for the harm caused by Defendants' unjust enrichment.

COUNT SIX

CONSPIRACY TO INDUCE BREACH OF CONTRACT

96. Defendants solicit runners and credit mules to purchase Sprint Phones in bulk for Defendants' financial benefit.

97. On information and belief, Defendants' active solicitation of runners and credit mules includes contacting these individuals and requesting that they obtain specific brands and models.

98. Sprint had valid and existing contracts with the runners and credit mules and other original purchasers of the Phones ("Purchasers").

99. Defendants had knowledge of the contracts between Sprint and Purchasers, and intended to, and in fact did, induce Purchasers to breach their contracts with Sprint.

101. Sprint suffered damages as a result.

COUNT SEVEN

COMMON LAW FRAUD AND FRAUDULENT MISREPRESENTATION

103. As part of the Scheme, each of the Defendants, directly or indirectly through other co-conspirators, regularly and systematically misrepresent to Sprint that the Phones are being acquired for a legitimate purpose, that the Phones will be used by Defendants or other legitimate consumers on Sprint's wireless network, and that they will perform in accordance with the Terms and Conditions.

104. On information and belief, each Defendant participated in defrauding Sprint, and its legitimate customers, retailers, and dealers, to acquire new Sprint Phones, including the specific models identified supra, for unlocking, resale, and ultimately for shipping overseas.

105. When Defendants, directly or through their co-conspirators, acquire Sprint Phones as part of the Scheme, they do not intend to use the Phones for a legitimate purpose or to activate them or maintain them as active on Sprint's wireless network, or otherwise perform in accordance with the Terms and Conditions.

106. Defendants and their co-conspirators know that they are required to activate the Sprint Phones for use on the Sprint wireless network, pay the monthly service charges, and otherwise comply with the Terms and Conditions.

107. Defendants intend for Sprint to rely on their misrepresentations, and/or the misrepresentations of their co-conspirators, to allow Defendants to acquire and unlock the Phones for improper purposes.

108. Sprint's reliance on the misrepresentations of Defendants and their co-conspirators was reasonable under the circumstances.

109. Sprint has been damaged and continues to suffer damages as a result of Defendants' actions.

110. There is no adequate remedy at law to fully compensate Sprint for the harm caused by Defendants' fraud.

COUNT EIGHT

TRAFFICKING IN COMPUTER PASSWORDS

18 U.S.C. § 1030(a)(6)

112. The Sprint Phones that are trafficked by Defendants are loaded with confidential codes/passwords that access: (a) Sprint's national telecommunications computer network to make and receive wireless voice calls and to transmit data, and (b) Sprint's computer billing network (collectively, "Sprint's protected computer networks"). As such, the Phones act as a gateway to Sprint's protected computer networks. Sprint restricts access to these protected computer networks through, among other things, the confidential codes/passwords contained in the Phones.

113. Through their Scheme, Defendants are knowingly trafficking in the confidential codes contained in the Phones with the intent to defraud Sprint.

114. Upon information and belief, once Defendants illicitly acquire the Sprint Phones, they use Sprint's confidential codes/passwords to gain additional access to Sprint's protected computer networks. This additional access into Sprint's protected computer networks is not authorized in any way. Upon information and belief, Defendants share these confidential codes/passwords and methodologies for unlocking Sprint Phones among themselves and with their co-conspirators.

115. Upon information and belief, Defendants acquire the unlocking codes/passwords and methodologies for unlocking Sprint Phones by misrepresenting to Sprint, either directly or through one of their co-conspirators, that the Phones are being acquired and unlocked for a legitimate purpose for use by legitimate consumers on Sprint's computer networks, when in fact, they are not.

116. Upon information and belief, Defendants unlawfully access Sprint's protected computer networks using Sprint's confidential codes/passwords to: (1) perform various tests to confirm that the Phone they are purchasing is, in fact, active on Sprint's wireless network; and/or (2) unlock the Sprint Phone, which requires the manipulation and oftentimes permanent deletion of the proprietary software that is installed in Sprint Phones and unauthorized changes to Sprint's protected computer networks, so that the Sprint Phone will operate on other wireless networks.

117. Through the Scheme, Defendants are knowingly trafficking in the confidential codes/passwords contained in the Phones with the intent to defraud and harm Sprint.

118. Defendants' transfer of the Phones and confidential codes to others constitutes "trafficking" of the codes as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 1029 in that the codes/passwords were transferred, or otherwise disposed of, to others, or Defendants obtained control of the codes/passwords with intent to transfer or dispose of them.

119. Defendants' trafficking of the Phones substantially affects interstate commerce and communication in that the codes/passwords contained in the Phones are trafficked over the internet, throughout the United States, and around the world, and Sprint's protected computer networks are used in and affect interstate commerce and communication, and provide wireless communications services pursuant to licenses issued by the Federal Communications Commission.

120. Defendants' trafficking of Sprint's codes/passwords has caused and will continue to cause Sprint to suffer injury, with "damages" and "losses" – as those terms are defined in Sections 1030(e)(8) and 1030(e)(11), respectively -- substantially in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period.

121. With respect to loss, Sprint has spent well in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period assessing its hacked protected computer networks for damage and taking steps to upgrade Sprint's protected computer networks' defenses to prevent future unauthorized access by Defendants and/or their co-conspirators.

122. Also with respect to loss, Sprint has spent well in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period investigating Defendants' intrusions into Sprint's protected computer networks, assessing the possible impairment to the integrity of its protected computer networks and conducting damage assessment regarding Defendants collection and dissemination of Sprint Phones with the codes/passwords, as well as tracking down fraudulently sold Phones.

123. Moreover, with respect to loss, Sprint has spent well in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period in costs in order to discover Defendants' identity and/or the method by which Defendants' access Sprint's protected computer networks without authorization.

124. With respect to damage, by infiltrating the Sprint computer and telecommunications network and collecting and disseminating the illegally activated Phones and codes/passwords, Defendants have substantially impaired the integrity of Sprint's protected computer networks in an amount in excess of $5,000. Moreover, Defendants' actions have deprived Sprint of the means to control the quality of its products and services.

127. Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1030(g), Sprint is entitled to maintain this civil action against Defendants to obtain compensatory damages and injunctive and other equitable relief for the reasons identified above, and because Defendants' conduct involves at least one of the factors identified in 18 U.S.C § 1030(c)(4)(A)(i), including the factor set forth in subclause (I): the loss to Sprint and its customers as a result of Defendants' conduct during any one year period aggregated at least $5,000 in value.

COUNT NINE

UNAUTHORIZED ACCESS
18 U.S.C. § 1030(a)(5)(C)

129. The Sprint Phones that are acquired by the Defendants, directly and/or from their co-conspirators in furtherance of the Scheme, are loaded with codes/passwords that access: (a) Sprint's national telecommunications computer network to make and receive wireless voice calls and to transmit data, and (b) Sprint's computer billing network (collectively, "Sprint's protected computer networks"). Sprint restricts access to these protected computer networks through, among other things, the confidential codes/passwords contained in the Phones.

131. Sprint's proprietary computer system holds confidential information and is connected to the internet, and assists in providing federally-regulated telecommunications services. Sprint's computer systems are "protected computers" as that term is defined in Section 1030(e)(2)(B) of the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act because they are used in interstate commerce and communications.

132. In furtherance of their Scheme, Defendants and/or their co-conspirators use fraud and misrepresentation to acquire Phones from Sprint, and in so doing void any purchase agreement and any legitimate access to Sprint's computer networks. As such, Defendants' access to the Phones and into Sprint's protected computer networks is not authorized in any way.

133. Upon information and belief, once Defendants illicitly acquire the Sprint Phones, they use confidential codes/passwords to gain additional illegal access to Sprint's protected computer networks. This additional access into Sprint's protected computer networks is not authorized in any way.

134. Upon information and belief, Defendants acquire the unlocking codes/passwords and methodologies for unlocking Sprint Phones by misrepresenting to Sprint, either directly or through one of their co-conspirators, that the Phones are being acquired and unlocked for a legitimate purpose for use by legitimate consumers on Sprint's computer networks, when in fact, they are not.

135. Defendants knowingly and with the intent to defraud, cause Sprint to access its proprietary computer systems. Defendants are not authorized to do so.

136. Further, by illicitly acquiring and unlocking the Phones, Defendants necessarily access the Sprint protected computer networks because the Phones are connected to those networks when acquired from Sprint.

137. Defendants acquire and, in some circumstances, unlock the Phones by misrepresenting to Sprint either directly or through a third-party agent that the Phones are being acquired and unlocked for a legitimate purpose, and for use by legitimate consumers on Sprint's computer networks, when in fact, they are not. Defendants use fraud and misrepresentation to acquire the Phones from Sprint, and, as such, Defendants' access of Sprint's protected computer networks is not authorized in any way.

138. Upon information and belief, when Defendants acquire a Sprint Phone from runners and/or credit mules acting on their behalf, Defendants carefully examine the Phone, turn it on, and perform various tests to confirm that the Phone they are purchasing is, in fact, active on Sprint's wireless network and that the various electronic code numbers and access numbers loaded on the Phone are correct. This too constitutes unauthorized access of Sprint's protected computer networks via a password obtained through fraud and misrepresentation.

139. By trafficking in activated Sprint Phones, the Defendants are also knowingly, intentionally, and with the intent to defraud, facilitating the unauthorized access of Sprint's protected computer networks.

140. Defendants' illegal and unauthorized access of Sprint's protected computer systems allows them to improperly steal Sprint's investment in its Phones.

141. Defendants' activities substantially affect interstate commerce and communication in that the Phones are trafficked over the internet, throughout the United States, and around the world, and Sprint's computer system and telecommunications network are used in and affect interstate commerce and communication, and provide wireless communications services pursuant to licenses issued by the Federal Communications Commission.

142. Defendants' unauthorized access of Sprint's protected computer systems has caused and will continue to cause Sprint to suffer injury, with "damages" and "losses" – as those terms are defined in Sections 1030(e)(8) and 1030(e)(11), respectively -- substantially in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period.

143. With respect to loss, Sprint has lost its investments in the stolen Phones with the codes/passwords and spent well in excess of $5,000 investigating and assessing the possible impairment to the integrity of its protected computer systems, taking remedial action to counteract Defendants' intrusions, and conducting a damage assessment regarding Defendants' collection and dissemination of Sprint Phones, as well as tracking down fraudulently sold Phones.

144. Moreover, with respect to loss, Sprint has spent well in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period in costs to discover Defendants' identity and/or the method by which Defendants' accessed Sprint's protected computer networks without authorization.

145. With respect to damage, by infiltrating the Sprint computers systems and collecting and disseminating the illegally trafficked Phones with the codes/passwords, Defendants have substantially impaired the integrity of Sprint's systems in an amount in excess of $5,000. Moreover, Defendants' actions have deprived Sprint of the means to control the quality of its product and service, and have stolen Sprint's financial investment in its Phones.

148. Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1030(g), Sprint is entitled to maintain this civil action against Defendants to obtain compensatory damages and injunctive and other equitable relief because of the reasons identified above, and because Defendants' conduct involves at least one of the factors identified in 18 U.S.C § 1030(c)(4)(A)(i), including the factor set forth in subclause (I): the loss to Sprint and its customers as a result of Defendants' conduct during any one year period aggregated at least $5,000 in value.

UNAUTHORIZED ACCESS WITH INTENT TO DEFRAUD 18 U.S.C. § 1030(a)(4)

150. The Sprint Phones that are acquired by the Defendants, directly and/or from their co-conspirators, in furtherance of the Scheme are loaded with codes/passwords that access: (a) Sprint's national telecommunications computer network to make and receive wireless voice calls and to transmit data, and (b) Sprint's computer billing network (collectively, "Sprint's protected computer networks"). In addition, manufacturers that produce wireless phones for Sprint install proprietary and confidential software, ordered and paid for by Sprint, on the Sprint Phones to lock the Phones to Sprint's protected computer networks and prevent the Phones from being used outside the Sprint network.

151. Sprint Phones are connected to and activated on Sprint's protected computer networks when purchased from Sprint.

152. In furtherance of the Scheme, Defendants and/or their co-conspirators use fraud and misrepresentation to acquire Phones from Sprint and in so doing void any purchase agreement and any legitimate access to Sprint's computer networks. As such, Defendants' access to the Phones and into Sprint's protected computer networks is not authorized in any way.

153. Upon information and belief, once Defendants illicitly acquire the Sprint Phones, they use confidential codes/passwords to gain additional illegal access to Sprint's protected computer networks. This additional access into Sprint's protected computer networks is not authorized in any way.

154. Upon information and belief, Defendants acquire the unlocking codes/passwords and methodologies for unlocking Sprint Phones by misrepresenting to Sprint, either directly or through one of their co-conspirators, that the Phones are being acquired and unlocked for a legitimate purpose for use by legitimate consumers on Sprint's computer networks, when in fact, they are not.

155. Upon information and belief, Defendants unlawfully hack into Sprint's protected computer networks using confidential codes/passwords to: (1) perform various tests to confirm that the Phone they are purchasing is, in fact, active on Sprint's wireless network; and/or (2) unlock the Sprint Phone, which requires the manipulation and oftentimes permanent deletion of the proprietary software that is installed in Sprint Phones and unauthorized changes to Sprint's protected computer networks, so that the Sprint Phone will operate on other wireless networks.

156. Defendants are knowingly, intentionally, and with the intent to defraud, facilitating the unauthorized access of Sprint's protected computer networks.

157. Defendants' access of Sprint's protected computer systems allows them to improperly steal Sprint's substantial financial investment in its Phones.

158. Sprint's protected computer systems are "protected computers" as that term is defined in Section 1030(e)(2)(B) of the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act because they are used in interstate commerce and communications.

159. Defendants' activities substantially affect interstate commerce and communication in that the Phones are trafficked over the internet, throughout the United States, and around the world, and Sprint's computer system and telecommunications network are used in and affect interstate commerce and communication, and provide wireless telecommunications service pursuant to licenses issued by the Federal Communications Commission.

160. Defendants' unauthorized access of Sprint's protected computer systems has caused and will continue to cause Sprint to suffer injury, with "damages" and "losses" – as those terms are defined in Sections 1030(e)(8) and 1030(e)(11), respectively -- substantially in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period.

161. With respect to loss, Sprint has spent well in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period assessing its hacked protected computer networks for damage and taking steps to upgrade Sprint's protected computer networks' defenses to prevent future unauthorized access by Defendants and/or their co-conspirators.

162. In addition, with respect to loss, Sprint has spent well in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period identifying the impairment of or damage to Sprint's protected computer networks that Defendants' and/or their co-conspirators accessed with authorization.

163. Further, with respect to loss, Sprint has spent well in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period in costs associated with investigating Defendants' and/or their co-conspirators' intrusions into Sprint's protected computer networks and taking subsequent remedial measures.

164. Moreover, with respect to loss, Sprint has spent well in excess of $5,000 over a one-year period in costs in order to discover Defendants' identity and/or the method by which Defendants' accessed Sprint's protected computer networks without authorization.

165. With respect to damage, by infiltrating the Sprint computers systems and collecting and disseminating the illegally obtained Phones, Defendants have substantially impaired the integrity of Sprint's systems in an amount in excess of $5,000. Moreover, Defendants' actions have deprived Sprint of the means to control the quality of its product and service, and have stolen Sprint's financial investment in its Phones.

167. Defendants' conduct is intentional, fraudulent, malicious and willful.

168. Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1030(g), Sprint is entitled to maintain this civil action against Defendants to obtain compensatory damages and injunctive and other equitable relief because of the reasons identified above, and because Defendants' conduct involves at least one of the factors identified in 18 U.S.C § 1030(c)(4)(A)(i), including the factor set forth in subclause (I): the loss to Sprint and its customers as a result of Defendants' conduct during any one year period aggregated is at least $5,000 in value.

175. Defendants, in committing the foregoing acts in commerce, have damaged, and will continue to damage, Sprint Communications and the reputation and goodwill of Sprint Communications, and have been unjustly enriched and will continue to unjustly enrich themselves at the expense of Sprint Communications.
